

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

THE following sheets were originally issued with the annual parts of RECORDS OF BUCKINGHAMSHIRE for the years 1885—1890.

As now collected into a volume, it is believed that they contain notices of all the printed books, pamphlets, and separate publications which have hitherto appeared, specifically relating to the county and the parishes therein, with very few exceptions.

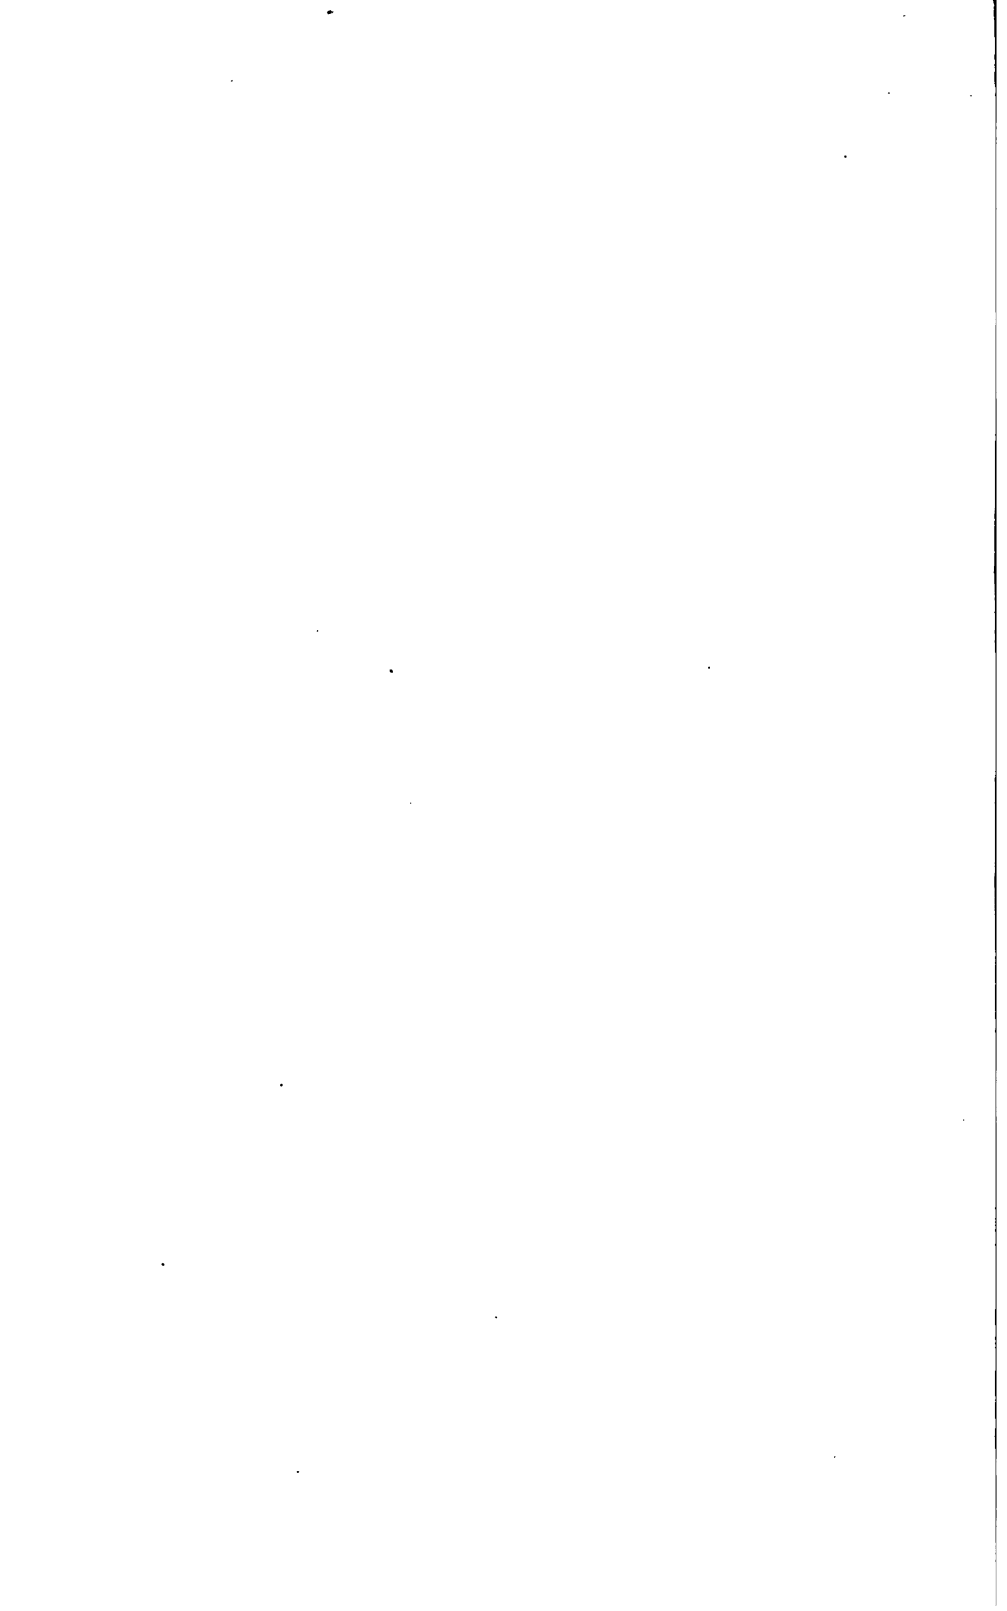

Whilst the Biographies of several persons whose memory has not reached much beyond the bounds of their own locality are mentioned in these pages, it may perhaps be wondered why the Lives of some more celebrated men are not similarly noticed. The numerous Biographies of the poet Cowper, for example, have relation to the parishes of Olney and Weston-under-Wood. This, however, is so widely known that to have included them would have served no useful purpose.

A large collection might still be made of articles from journals and other books descriptive of the county and localities within its bounds; and the MSS. preserved in public libraries and private depositories would furnish material for another catalogue of no less interest and usefulness.

It has been mentioned in another place (RECORDS OF Bucks, Vol. V., p. 372) that a full catalogue of the Corporation Seals of Buckinghamshire is a desideratum. As regards Trade Tokens, though additional examples are occasionally found, it is hoped that the new edition of Boyne's work upon the subject, edited by Mr. George C. Williamson, (the first volume of which has recently been published,) will be found fairly complete.

"Sub tegmine fagi."—VIRG.

"Nor less attractive is the woodland scene,
Diversified with trees of every growth,
Alike yet various. Here the grey smooth trunks
Of ash, or lime, or beech, distinctly shine,
Within the twilight of their distant shades.

O'er these, but far beyond, (a spacious map Of hill and valley interpos'd between)
The Ouse, dividing the well-water'd land,
Now glitters in the sun, and now retires,
As bashful, yet impatient to be seen."

COWPER, The Task, Book I.

"How soft the music of those village bells,
Falling at intervals upon the ear
In cadence sweet! now dying all away."

PREFACE.

FOR a list of the almost innumerable books describing the whole of Great Britain, or England, and therefore containing accounts, more or less extended, of this county, we may refer the reader to The Book of British Topography; a classified Catalogue of the Topographical Works in the Library of the British Museum relating to Great Britain and Ireland, by John P. Anderson, London: 1881, 8°. In the same very useful work will be found the titles of most of the numerous and interesting books which may be described as miscellaneous Collections of British Topography, and which are, in many instances, profusely illustrated with engravings. Rich as the British Museum is in topography, it must be borne in mind that the collection is very far from being complete, many smaller libraries, even private ones, being wealthier in some departments than the national depository. In the compilation of the ensuing list it has only been found possible to insert a selection from the classes before named, but it is hoped that it will be found to comprise all the most important volumes. As regards Records, MSS., and other sources of information, much may be gathered from "An Essay on Topographical Literature," by the late John Britton, F.S.A., published in 1843,* always remembering the fact that since this date the published materials for local history have been immensely increased, and that those still unpublished, Records and Wills especially, have been made very much more accessible to inquirers.

Many of the annual Reports of the Deputy Keeper of the Public Records, the first of which was issued in 1840, contain information of the utmost value to the local historian. The Calendars of State Papers, and the Reports of the Royal Commission on Historical MSS., are no less worthy of investigation.

* It is appended to the Rev. J. E. Jackson's History of Grittleton, published by the Wiltshire Topographical Society.

Much authentic information is afforded by the Returns to the Parliamentary Inquiries of 1776, 1786, and 1803 respecting the relief of the Poor; those concerning Charities, 1786-88; the Population Returns of 1801 and later years; the Returns relative to Parish Registers, 1831; the Reports on the Boundaries of Boroughs, etc., 1832 and 1858; and the Return of Owners of Land, 1873.

The present list does not include mere articles, in journals or other books, relating to the county, or parishes or places in it. These may properly be reserved for another series.

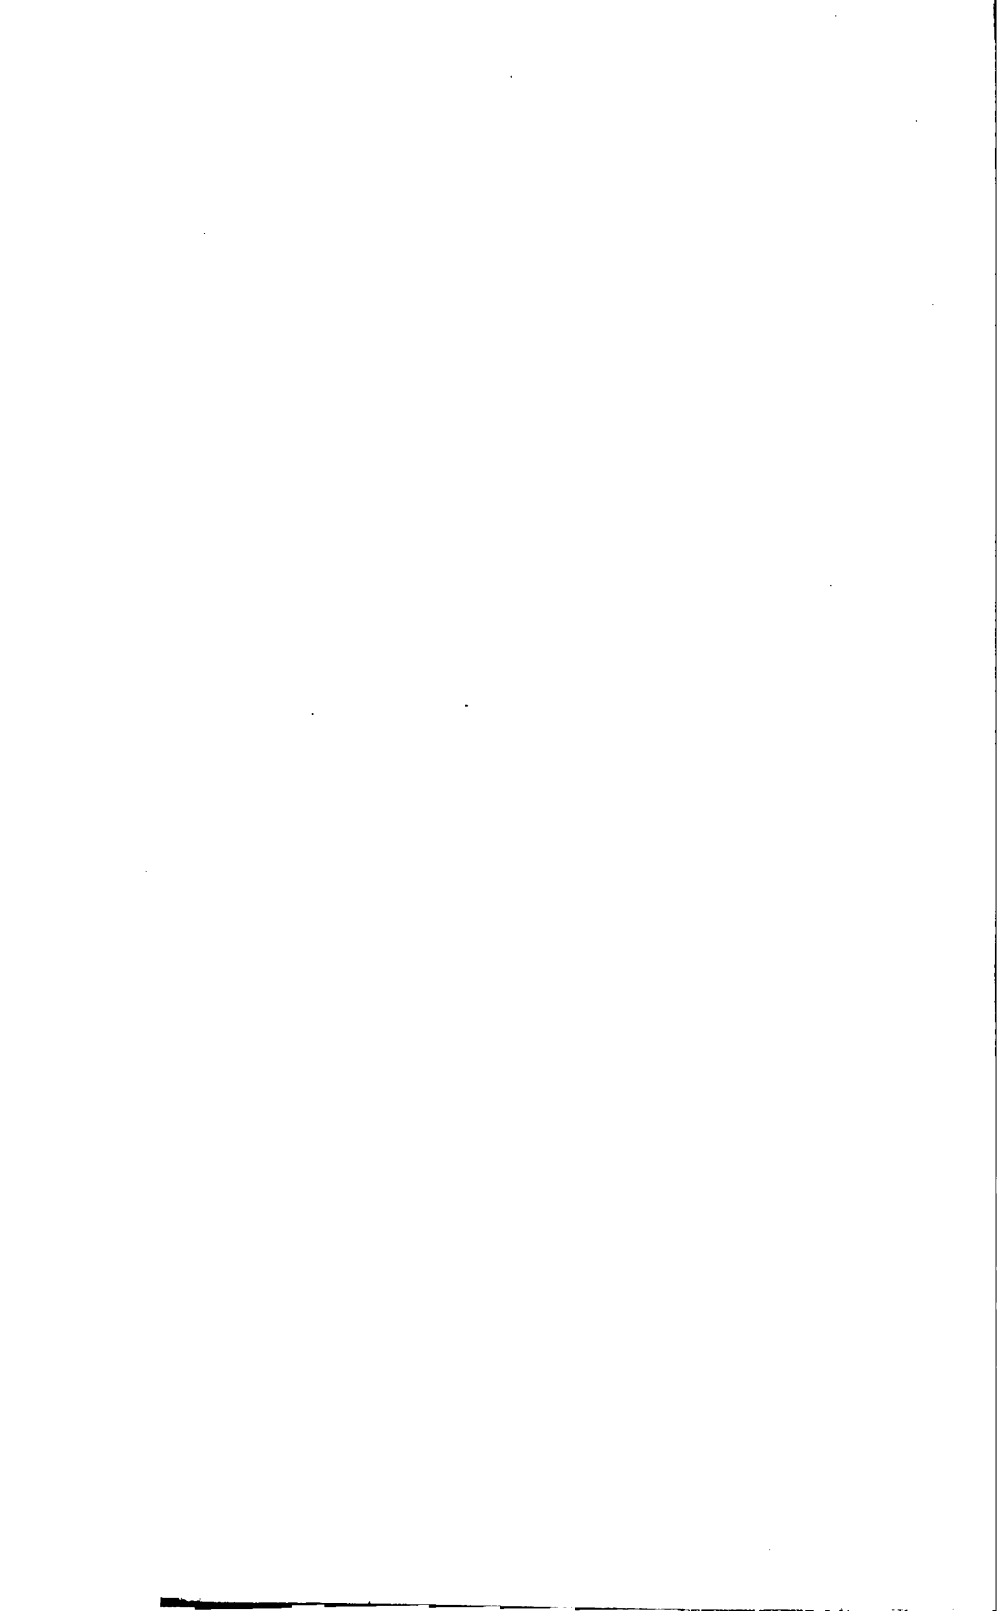

In addition to the Catalogue of Printed Books now commenced, and the proposed list of Articles on the topography of the county, an index, locally arranged, of the materials which exist in Manuscript relating to the county, is much to be desired. It is hoped that this may some day be undertaken, under the auspices of the Society. In the meantime, any notes concerning Books, Articles, or MSS. falling within the scope of the intended lists, will be most acceptable. It is requested that they may be communicated, as early as may be convenient, to the undersigned.

At the conclusion of the present Catalogue, it is proposed to add lists—

1. Of Civil War Tracts.
2. Of Local Newspapers and Journals.
3. Of Local Acts of Parliament.

Paterson's Roads, etc. The eighteenth edition. To which are added Topographical Sketches of the several Cities, etc. By Edward Mogg.
 London: 1826. 8° (B.M.)

A very accurate work, with several maps.

RAILWAYS.

Britton (John), F.S.A. Drawings of the London and Birmingham Railway, by John C. Bourne; with an historical and descriptive account. London: 1839. fol. (B.M.)

Roscoe (Thomas). The London and Birmingham Railway, with the Home and Country Scenes on each side of the Line. London: [1839]. 8° (B.M.)

Osborne's London and Birmingham Railway Guide, illustrated, etc. Birmingham: [1840]. 12° (B.M.)

Railway Chronicle Travelling Charts, etc. London to Wolverton. [London: 1846?] (B.M.)

Folded in an 8° wrapper. This chart has numerous small cuts of objects on the line, very neatly engraved, with brief descriptions, which may, it is believed, be attributed to the late Sir Henry Cole, C.B.

For other books respecting the N.W. Railway and other lines, see Anderson, pp. 34-36.

TOURS.

Leland (John). The Itinerary of John Leland, the Antiquary, publish'd . . . by Thomas Hearne. 9 vol. Oxford: 1710-12. 8° (B.M.)

A 2nd edition was published in 1744-45, and a 3rd in 1770, both at Oxford and in 9 volumes. It would be well for the several Archaeological Societies, or for local publishers, to reprint the portions of this interesting work relating to their counties, with annotations.

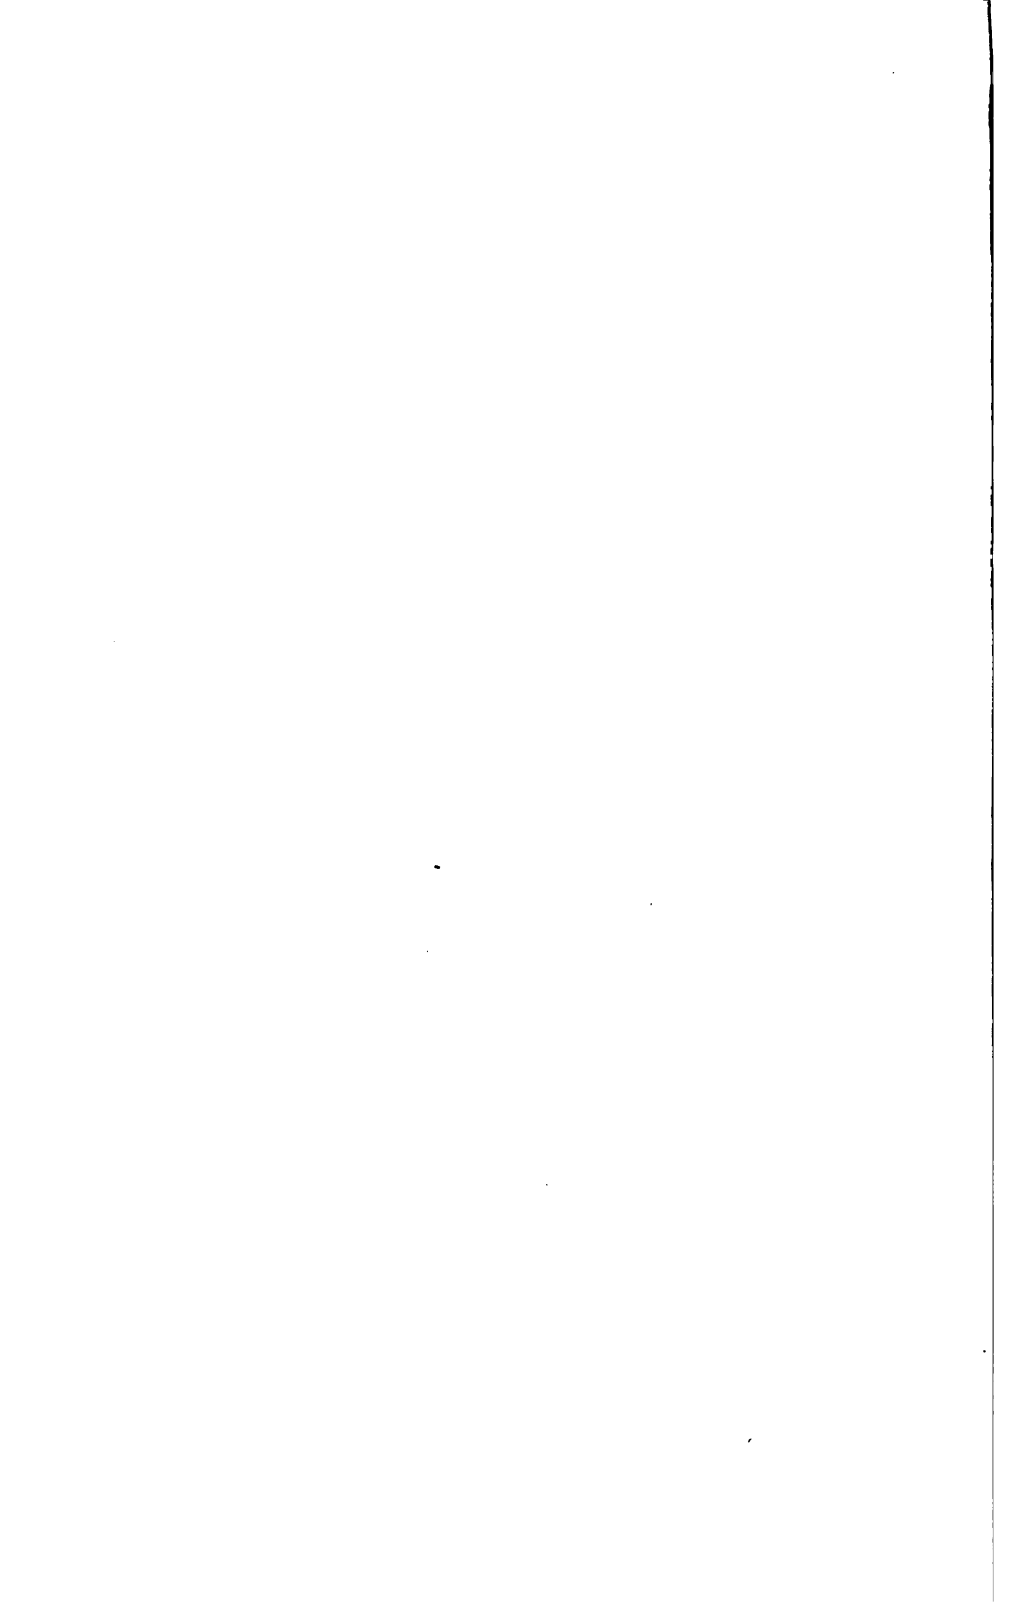

A Tour thro' the whole Island of Great Britain, divided into Circuits or Journies, etc. By a Gentleman [i.e., Daniel Defoe]. 3 vol. London: 1724-27. 8° (B.M.)

There are several later editions, much enlarged. The 8th is in 4 vol., and dated 1778.

Sketch of a Tour into Derbyshire and Yorkshire; including part of Buckingham, etc. London: 1778. 8° (B.M.)

Bray (William), F.S.A. Sketch of a Tour, etc. London: 1783. 8° (B.M.)

This contains some account of Amersham, Aylesbury, Buckingham, Stowe, Newport-Pagnell, and other places in this county, as they were in 1777.

Pennant (Thomas). A Journey from Chester to London. London: 1782. 4° (B.M.)

———— A Journey, etc. London: 1811. 8° (B.M.)

This includes descriptions of Gothurst, Stony-Stratford, Fenny-Stratford, Blechley, and Newport-Pagnell.

Shaw (Stebbing). A Tour to the West of England in 1788. London: 1789. 8° (B.M.)

This contains some particulars of Beaconsfield, Amersham, Aylesbury, Buckingham, Stowe, etc.

Cruttwell (C.). A Tour through the whole Island of Great Britain; divided into Journeys, etc. 6 vol. London: 1801. 8° (B.M.)

With plates. The engraved titles are dated 1806.

Hassell (J.). Tour of the Grand Junction Canal, illustrated with a series of Engravings, etc. London: 1819. 8° (B.M.)

With coloured plate, amongst which are views of Ashridge, Marsworth, Locks at Stoke-Hammond, Fenny-Stratford, Newport-Pagnell, Great-Linford, the Aqueduct at Wolverton, and Stony-Stratford. Some copies have a folding map.

Cobbett (William). Rural Rides in the Counties of Surrey, Kent, Sussex, Berks, etc. London: 183 . 12° ()

"A verbatim reprint of the scarce last edition," with notes, etc., has just been published, in 2 vol. London: 1885, cr. 8°.

Miller (Hugh). First Impressions of England and its People. London: 1847. 8° (B.M.)

There are several later editions. Chapters XV. and XVI. contain his impressions of Olney, Weston-Underwood, and Newport-Pagnell. "Hales of Pemberton" is a mistake for Hale of Emberton, as "Skirvington" is for Sherington.

CHURCHES.

The Ecclesiastical and Architectural Topography of England. Part III. Buckinghamshire. Oxford: 1849. 8° (B.M.)

The descriptions must not be too implicitly relied on. Notices of "restorations," and of new churches, etc., may be found in The Ecclesiologist, 29 vol. 1842-68, as well as in The Builder, a journal commenced about the same time. The Church Builder, a quarterly magazine, first published in 1862, should also be consulted. There is an article on the churches of the county in A Hand-Book of English Ecclesiology. London: 1847, 18°. App. lii.-iv.

The Oxford Diocesan Calendar and Clergy List, for the Year of our Lord 1858. First year of issue. Oxford: 1858. sm. 8° ()

This Calendar has been continued annually to the present time. It contains much information as to the churches, schools, and other ecclesiastical institutions of the diocese, of which Buckinghamshire forms a part.

Haines (Herbert). A Manual of Monumental Brasses: comprising an Introduction to the Study of these Memorials and a List of those remaining in the British Isles. With two hundred Illustrations. Oxford and London: 1861. 8° (B.M.)

The list for Buckinghamshire is on pp. 19-31.

Taxatio Ecclesiastica Angliæ et Walliæ, auctoritate P. Nicholai IV., A.D. 1291. Londini: 1802. fol. (B.M.)

Valor Ecclesiasticus, temp. Hen. VIII., auctoritate Regia institutus. 6 vol. Londini: 1811-34. fol. (B.M.)

Published (like the preceding book) by the Record Commission. The Valor contains maps of the dioceses.

Ecton (John). Liber Valorum et Decimarum. Being an Account, etc. London: 1711. 8° (B.M.)

The 2nd edition was published in 1723. A copy of the 3rd, London: 1728, 8°, with the names of the patrons (c. 1730-45) interleaved, is in the possession of the writer.

MONASTERIES.

Dugdale (Sir William) and Roger Dodsworth. Monasticon Anglicanum, sive Pandectæ Cænobiorum, etc. 3 vol. Londini: 1655, 61, 73. fol. (B.M.)

————— Monasticon Anglicanum: a History of the Abbies, etc. 6 vol. in 8 pt. London: 1817-30. fol. (B.M.)

This edition (by Caley, Ellis, and Bandinel) was reprinted in 1846. All the editions have plates.

Tanner (Thomas). Notitia Monastica; or a short History of the Religious Houses of England and Wales. Oxford: 1695. 8° (B.M.)

Tanner was Bp. of St. Asaph, 1731-35.

Notitia, etc., and also of the Colleges and Hospitals founded before A.D. 1540. London: 1744. fol. (B.M.)

This edition was published under the inspection of Browne Willis.

Notitia, etc., with many additions by James Nasmyth, M.A. Cambridge: 1787. fol. (B.M.)

All the editions have plates of arms.

SCHOOLS.

Carlisle (Nicholas), F.R.S. A concise Description of the endowed Grammar Schools in England and Wales. 2 vol. London: 1818. 8° (B.M.)

With plates.

MANSIONS.

Britannia Illustrata: or, Views of several of the Queen's Palaces, as also of the principal Seats of the Nobility and Gentry . . . on eighty copper plates. 2 vol. London: 1714-17. fol. (Rawl.)

Lipscomb (George), M.D. The History and Antiquities of the County of Buckingham. 4 vol. London: 1831-47. 4° (soc.)

Dr. Lipscomb was executor to the Rev. Edward Cooke, Rector of Haversham (who died in Feb. 1824), and thus obtained his MS. collections towards the history of this county. The Dr. died 9 Nov. 1846, aged 74. There is a memoir of him in the Gent. Mag. for Jan. 1847, p. 88. His History (which was, in part, written within the Rules of the King's Bench) is, in many respects, very incomplete and inaccurate. For a list of the numerous pedigrees contained in it, see Bridger's Index to Printed Pedigrees, 1867, pp. 4-9.

This paper (described in a catalogue as having a wood-cut), relates to the election for Buckingham borough, 1679. The Bodleian Library has three copies, Ant. à Wood's, Ashmole's, and B. Willis's, neither of which has a wood-cut ; but the last-named has written at the foot of his copy,
"The Frontispiece of this Ballad is a barber shaving an owle. This Ballad was made A° 1679, by Charles Blount, Esqr. who wrote several Bad Books." Being thwarted in an attempt to marry his deceased wife's sister, he shot himself and died, felo de se, 1693.

CHESHAM.

The English Hermit, or the Wonder of this Age; being a Relation of the Life of Roger Crab, living near Uxbridge, etc. 1655. ... ()

5 leaves, on the first of which is a full-length wood-cut portrait. See Rec. B., Vol. III. p. 68, where there is a copy of the cut. Crab is said to have been born at Buckingham, about 1620. He was once a Roundhead soldier, and later on a prosperous "haberdasher of hats" at Chesham; but quitting this occupation he lived the life of a recluse at Ickenham (Midd.), near Uxbridge. He died at Bethnal Green, 11 Sept. 1680, and was buried at Stepney. A copy of the very rare tract above-named was in the library of James Bindley, Esq., at the sale of which, in 1819, it produced $5 10s. It was reprinted in The Harleian Miscellany (without the cut) and separately, London: 1848. 8°.

MEDMENHAM.

Chrysal; or the Adventures of a Guinea; wherein are exhibited Views of several striking Scenes, with curious and interesting Anecdotes. By an Adept.
2 vol. London: 1760. 12° ()

In this book, which is ascribed to C. Johnstone, the profane orgies of Sir F. Dashwood and his associates at Medmenham are said to be described.
The third edition, in 4 vol. 12°, was published in 1762. It is but fair to add that Dr. Benjamin Bates, the last survivor of "the monks of Medmenham," repeatedly declared that the association, bad as it was, was unjustly stigmatized by some of the sarcastic publications of the period.
See Gibbs's Worthies, etc., p. 31. An Olio, etc., by W. Davis, 1814, 12°, includes a key to Chrysal.

Press.

Benjamin Leverett exercised the art of printing in this town in the reign of George III. The only known production of his press is a whimsical advertisement commencing thus :—

"At Mr. Christopher Towles in High Street in Coventry, and at Miss Towles in Penny-Farthing Street in Oxford. Young ladies are genteely boarded," etc. A copy of this broadside is in the Bodleian Library. It is, says Mr. Allnutt, without date, but about 1779, and bears this imprint :—

"Newport-Pagnell, Printed by B. Leverett, where every Article of Letter-press Printing is reasonably performed."

A copy of Towle's advertisement given in Staines's History of Newport Pagnell (pp. 175—179) contains the words "His present Schooles is in 1783; in Oxford," etc. This seems to be from a later issue.

The first book printed here was perhaps the following :—

Poems translated from the French of Madame de la Mothe Guion, by the late William Cowper, Esq., etc. Newport-Pagnel, printed and sold by J. Wakefield ;...1801. 18° (H.G.)

End: "Printed by J. Wakefield, High Street, Newport-Pagnel." A second edition is dated 1802.

OLNEY.

Newton (John). An Address to the Inhabitants of Olney. London: 1768. 12° (H.G.)

Pp. 21. The author's name is at the end.

A True and particular Account, of, a surprising and wonderful Noise, that was heard in the Steeple of the Church at Olney, in the County of Bucks, on Friday the 1st of July, 1768, in the Night; occasioned by the ringing of the Bell in the Steeple: It so surprised the People in the Town, that they called up the Parson of the Parish, the Clerk, and the Sexton, and went into the Church together, but found no Body there, they joined then in Prayer, but the Bell still kept tolling for two Hours; then a Voice called out and said, "There will be great Signs and Wonders seen in many Parts of England." Which is a great Token of strange and wonderful Things. London: Printed by Richard Thompson.

sm. 8° (Bodl.)

Pp. 8. The story is a pure fabrication. The names given are all fictitious.

Olney Hymns, in Three Books. London: 1779. 12° (Bodl.)

This is the First Edition. The Preface is signed by John Newton. Some of the hymns are by Cowper. Pp. xxviii. and 428.

Bean (James). A Farewell Address to the Inhabitants of the Parish of Olney, in the County of Bucks. London: 1796. 12° (H.G.)

Storer (James S.). The Rural Walks of Cowper; displayed in a series of Views near Olney, Bucks: representing the Scenery exemplified in his Poems; with descriptive Sketches, and a Memoir of the Poet's Life. London: [1822]. 8° (H.G.)

Pp. x., and, after a leaf not paged, [13]—69. The author's name ("James Storer") is attached to the dedication. The work is embellished with 15 views, and a plate containing a fac-simile of the poet's writing. It is briefly noticed in The Gent. Mag. for June, 1822. This book was published in three sizes—8°, 12°, 18°. (Adv.)

There is a later issue of the same impression: it contains, besides the plates before mentioned, and as a frontispiece, a portrait of "Cowper from his shadow taken at Olney," with his signature, and below these a figure of "The Dog Beau (stuffed)." In this later issue the engraved views are slightly altered, and they have an additional border of double lines. Some copies have an "Appendix" of 7 pages, printed in or about 1835. (H.G.)

This book is a republication, with new and different plates, of the far more common work intitled Cowper Illustrated, which first appeared in 1803, and will be found mentioned under Weston-under-Wood.

James-Sargant Storer and his son Henry-Sargant Storer, both connected with Olney, were eminent engravers, and their works are almost countless. The son died in 1837, and the father in 1854. Of the latter there is a memoir in The Gent. Mag. for March, 1854. The name "Sargant" (though he did not use it) is there ascribed to him, as it is also in an old printed list of the family.

A Sermon preached in the Parish Church of Olney, to improve the Death of Henry Gauntlett, Vicar, etc.
Printed by Thomas Collingridge, Olney: 1834.

sm. 8° (Bodl.)

By the Rev. Thomas Fry, Rector of Emberton, but anon. Pp. 20.

Gauntlett (Catharine T.). Memoir of the late Rev.
Henry Gauntlett, Vicar of Olney, Bucks. London:
1835. 8° (H.G.)

With a portrait. In the Appendix are many letters from William Cowper to Samuel Teedon, of Olney, whose diary is cited in a note. Title and advertisement, 2 leaves. Memoir, pp. 238. Appendix, pp. [353]—388. The reason of the hiatus is that the Appendix is taken from Vol. II. of Mr. Gauntlett's Sermons (2 vol. London: 1835. 8°). The Memoir is also prefixed to Vol. I. of the Sermons.

The Olney Magazine. No. 1. July, 1836. Olney:
printed and published by T. P. Lovell, July 20,
1836. 8° (H.G.)

Pp. 33. The light brown wrapper has the above title on it, and a silhouette portrait of Cowper. Printed, for the most part, on single leaves.

Langley (D. B.), D.C.L. "Hidden Things of Darkness to be brought to Light." A Sermon by the Rev. Dr. Langley, Vicar of Olney; preached in Olney Church, ... January 9th, 1853: relating to the Incendiary Fires which have lately taken place in that Parish. Olney: 1853. sm. 8° (Bodl.)

No fewer than eleven copies of verses composed with reference to the same lamentable fires were printed at the time as broadsides. (Bodl.)

Portions of this work relate to Weston, Gayhurst, Tyringham, Laven-don, Ravenstone, Clifton, Emberton, Ekeney, Petsoe, and Filgrave.

Press.

The first recorded printer at Olney was no other than the poet Cowper.
(See his letter of 12 Aug. 1782, preserved by Hayley.) Nothing else is known to have issued from the press at Olney until 1833, when some bills were printed by Thomas Collingridge. The first book or pamphlet printed here is probably the Sermon of 1834, above mentioned.

Lord Viscount Cobham. ... 1730. fol. (cat.)

The book includes a map and plan, and 15 (?) large double-page views, by Rigaud and Baron. Mention is made of a large ground-plan of the seat, 1731, and a series of 14 large views of the mansion, etc., engraved by Rigaud and Baron, and dated 1739. These were published by S. Bridgeman. Whether they are altogether identical with the map, plan, and views before referred to, seems uncertain.

Stowe: the Gardens of ... Richard Lord Viscount Cobham. Addressed to Mr. Pope. London: 1732.
fol. (B.M.)

Stowe, etc. [Another edition.] London: 1732.
8° (B.M.)

A folio copy of this poem in the Bodleian Library bears on its title, in the autograph of Edward Harley, 2nd Earl of Oxford, "By Mr. West, Nephew to my Lord Cobham." This was Gilbert West. The work has been erroneously ascribed to G. Bickham.

A Description of the Gardens of ... Lord Viscount Cobham, at Stow, etc. Northampton: 1744. 8° (B.M.)

Described as "sold by B. Seeley, Writing-Master in Buckingham." So is the next. The title of the owner of the estate is of course varied in later editions.

A Description, etc. The second edition. Northampton: 1745. 8° (B.M.)

A Description, etc. The third edition. Northampton: 1746. 8° (Bodl.)

In this and the next two editions B. Seeley is styled "Writing-Master, Bookseller, and Stationer in Buckingham."

A Description, etc. The fourth edition. Northampton: 1747. 8° (Bodl.)

A copy in the B. M. is described as 12°.

A Description, etc. The fifth edition. Northampton: 1748. 8° (Bodl.)

A copy is described as having numerous engravings—perhaps of later date.

A Description, etc. The sixth edition. Northampton: 1749. 8° (B.M.)

A copy of this date is described as having 40 views. These views, perhaps with some variations, appear to be in most copies of the book, until near the end of the century.

With 2 folding plates. The preface signed W. J. S., i.e., Smith. This magnificent collection, happily, was not dispersed, but purchased by the late Earl of Ashburnham, by private contract, for £8000. After his decease, 1878, it was again in danger of dispersion, but, with the exception of a few volumes which were returned to Stowe, it was at length acquired by the nation, for £45,000. The MSS. relating to England are now deposited in the British Museum.

STRATFORD (WATER-).

A Letter from a Gentleman in Buckinghamshire, near Water-Stratford, to his Brother; Mr. Thomas Pick-fat, at the Three Kings in White-cross Street, in London. Giving an Account of the Doctrine and Manner of the Behaviour of Mr. Mason, Minister of Water-Stratford, within two miles of Buckingham. With the Hymns they usually sing. London: 1694. ... (Bodl.)

WYCOMBE (WEST).

Abridgment of the Book of Common Prayer. London: [West-Wycombe:] 1773. 8° (bodl.)

This work, composed by, and privately printed at the expense of, Francis, Lord le Despencer, is described in Dibdin's Library Companion, 2nd ed., 1825, p. 48. The Bodleian copy was formerly the property of Sir John Dashwood-King, Bart. The compiler's design evidently was not only to reduce the services to the utmost brevity, but to omit what he calls "speculative points" of doctrine. Even the director of the impious rites of Medmenham found it convenient to have "a form of godliness." His heathenish proceedings on the enshrinement of Paul Whitehead's heart, in 1775, have been described by several writers. In 1781, shortly before his Lordship's death, Whitehead's ghost is said to have appeared to him and several members of his household. See Cowper's letter to Unwin, 24 Nov., 1781 (Southey's Cowper, Vol. IV. p. 147). Cowper doubtless received the information from Lady Austen, who was connected with the Dashwood family. The heart disappeared in 1839.

Some local works which have come to the knowledge of the compiler of this list too late for the insertion of their titles in the proper places, are necessarily reserved for an Appendix. Notices of any other publications which ought to be inserted, as well as any corrections, will be thankfully received.

Together with the Sums of Money and Lands which they divided among themselves during their sitting, (at least such as was dispos'd of publicly.) London: Printed in the first year of England's Liberty, after almost twenty years slavery. 1660. 8° (bodl.)

Three leaves unnumbered, pp. 1—56, and Postscript. This book, which relates in part to Buckinghamshire Roundheads, was reprinted under the title of Sarcastic Notices of the Long Parliament, in 1863.

The newspapers of this eventful period should be searched for statements relating to the Civil War, which statements, however, must be received with caution. In England's Memorable Accidents, a paper circulated in 1642, occurs (e.g.) the passage following :—

"Thursday, the 3 of Novem. The Lord General [Essex] . . . with his whole Army, consisting of 12000 horse and foot, and 37 pieces of Ordnance, marched yesterday out of Northampton to Olney in Buckinghamshire, and intended to be this night at Brickhill." (Northampton N. and Q., Vol. I., p. 244.) This was a year before the pillage at Olney by the Royalists, mentioned in A true and punctual Relation, &c. 1643.

LOCAL NEWSPAPERS.

The first newspaper printed and published regularly in a provincial town of England was the Mercurius Aulicus, which was commenced at Oxford, 1 Jan., 1642; but as its publication in that city was owing to the residence of the Court there, it cannot be regarded as a mere local newspaper. For a like reason, the official journal now styled The London Gazette was published at the same place, from Nov., 1665, to Feb., 1666, and then called The Oxford Gazette. A Worcester paper appeared in 1690, and other journals were issued at Norwich and other provincial towns, from 1706. The following papers, published in neighbouring countries from the years mentioned, have at times contained more or less of Buckinghamshire news. Some of them are still continued :—

The Northampton Mercury. 1720.

The Reading Mercury. 1723.

The Northamptonshire Journal. In or before 1741.

The Oxford Gazette. 1745.

The Oxford Journal. 1753 (or 1740?).

The second and fourth of these papers were joined together in or before 1755.

The Buckinghamshire Herald.

No. I. was published at Aylesbury, on Sat., 28 July, 1792, price 3^d. "It had" (as stated by Mr. R. Gibbs, in a recent lecture) "an existence of eighteen weeks only at that town, the last issue being dated 24 Nov., 1792. It was then removed to Berkhamstead," and called

The Buckinghamshire, Bedfordshire, and Hertfordshire Herald. "The 23rd of Nov., 1793, is recorded" (Mr. Gibbs adds) "as its last appearance." But that a paper styled The Buckinghamshire Herald existed in 1795, appears from a reference to it in Records of Bucks, Vol. II., p. 158.

The Bucks Chronicle.

First published in 1820, price 7d. It was afterwards called

The Bucks, Beds, and Herts Chronicle. "It had" (says Mr. Gibbs) "a chequered and lingering existence for some years."

The Bucks Herald.

A paper so called, published at Aylesbury every Saturday, was commenced 7 Jan., 1832. Its full title has varied from time to time. No. 1028, published at Aylesbury, 18 Oct., 1851, is styled

The Bucks Herald and Uzbridge Advertiser . . . with which is incorporated The Windsor and Eton Journal.

The Bucks Gazette and Windsor and Eton Express.

This journal was commenced in 1824, by Charles Knight, senior, and Charles Knight, junior. It was printed partly at Windsor and partly at Aylesbury. "The joint publication was continued at Aylesbury and Windsor for some years, but was eventually abandoned at Aylesbury, and the result was two distinct papers. The Bucks Gazette disappeared some years ago, but The Windsor and Eton Express still flourishes at Windsor." (Gibbs, Worthies of Buckinghamshire, p. 237.) The latter paper dates from 1811 or 1812.

The Bucks Gazette. Published at Aylesbury every Saturday. Advertised in Oct., 1830, as "the only newspaper in Buckinghamshire." Called (as it seems), in 1833,

The Aylesbury and Bucks Gazette.

The Bucks Advertiser and Aylesbury News.

Published at Aylesbury every Saturday. Commenced 3 Dec., 1836. "Advanced Liberal." Enlarged 1837, 1853, 1881.

The Aylesbury News, which commenced in 1836, is the same paper.

The Bucks Chronicle.

Mentioned in 1852, as published at Aylesbury every Saturday. Afterwards (as it seems) The Bucks Chronicle and Bucks Gazette, published at Aylesbury every Wednesday and Saturday. Commenced Sat., 30 Nov., 1839. "Liberal." These papers have within the last few years been amalgamated with the "Conservative" Bucks Herald.

The Windsor and Eton Journal.

Incorporated (before Oct., 1851) with The Bucks Herald.

The Olney Star. A Monthly Journal.

Only four numbers issued, March—June, 1853. See p. 39.

The South Bucks Free Press.

Published at High Wycombe. No. 1425 is dated 4 Aug., 1882.
"Liberal."

Croydon's Weekly Standard.

Published at Newport-Pagnell, every Saturday. Commenced 1 Jan., 1859. Price 1d.

In 18.. the title was altered to The Bucks Standard.

The Newport-Pagnell Chronicle, and North Bucks and West Beds Advertiser.

A weekly paper, price one penny. The first number was dated Saturday, March 4, 1865. This journal came to an end before the conclusion of the year. Mr. John Milbourne was the proprietor.

The Newport-Pagnell Gazette.

Established 1867. Recently described as The Newport-Pagnell Gazette, Wolverton Times, and Olney Free Press. Published every Friday afternoon, price 1d.

The Fenny Stratford Times.

A weekly paper, commenced 1879. See below.

North Bucks Times and South Beds Chronicle.

Established 1879 as The Fenny Stratford Times. Published weekly at Fenny Stratford. The above title is from "No. 401. Thursday, April 28, 1887. One Penny." The politics appear to be "Conservative."

The Aylesbury Reporter.

Published at Aylesbury.

The Flying Post.

Published at Fenny Stratford.

NOTICE.

WITH one sheet more, which it is proposed to issue as early as conveniently may be, this List will be completed. The compiler is already in possession of additions to several of the divisions, for which his thanks and those of the Architectural and Archæological Society for the County of Buckingham are due to several correspondents. Any further additions, as well as any corrections with which he may be favoured, will be duly inserted in the inevitable Supplement.

APPENDIX.

DESCRIPTIONS OF ENGLAND.

Smith (William), Rouge Dragon. The Particular Description of England. 1588. With Views of some of the chief Towns and Armorial Bearings of Nobles and Bishops. . . . Edited, from the original MS. in the British Museum, with an Introduction, by Henry B. Wheatley, F.S.A., and Edmund W. Ashbee, F.S.A. London: printed for subscribers only. 1879. 4° (B.M.)

250 copies printed. There is a short account of Buckinghamshire at p. 32. No views belonging to the county.

Harrison (William). Harrison's Description of England, etc. London: 1877, 78, 81. 8° (B.M.)

New Shakspeare Society, Series VI., Nos. 1, 5, 8. From the first two editions of Holinshed's Chronicle, 1577, 87.

The Antiquarian and Topographical Cabinet: containing a Series of Views of the most interesting Objects of Curiosity in Great Britain, with Descriptions. 10 vol. London: 1807—11. 8° (B.M.)

Ancient Reliques: or Delineations of Monastic, Castellated, and Domestic Architecture, . . . with historical and descriptive Sketches. 2 vol. London: 1812—13. 8° (B.M.)

The Antiquarian Itinerary, comprising Specimens of Architecture, Monastic, Castellated, and Domestic;

with other Vestiges of Antiquity in Great Britain Accompanied with Descriptions. 7 vol. London :
1815—18. 8° (B.M.)

The plates were engraved by T. Higham, J. Greig, and others; and there are numerous woodcuts attributed to Luke Clennell.

The Antiquarian and Topographical Cabinet: containing a Series of elegant Views of the most interesting Objects of Curiosity in Great Britain. 6 vol.
London: 1817—19. 12° (H.G.)

This edition, in which the plates and letter-press descriptions are printed on one side only of the leaves, includes the contents of the two works, The Antiquarian Cabinet and Ancient Reliques, before mentioned. The plates (upwards of 600 in number) were engraved by James Storer and John Greig.

The Portfolio; a Collection of Engravings from Antiquarian, Architectural & Topographical Subjects, curious Works of Art, &c. &c., with Descriptions.
4 vol. London: 1823—24. 12° (H.G.)

There are large-paper copies in 8°. In the preface it is said that this work (which contains more than 150 plates, engraved by J. and H. S.
Storer) may be considered a second series of The Antiquarian Cabinet.
A considerable number of the views in The Antiquarian Cabinet and The Portfolio relate to Buckinghamshire.

TOURS.

Fiennes (Celia). Through England on a Side-Saddle in the Time of William and Mary, being the Diary of Celia Fiennes. With an Introduction by the Hon.
Mrs. Griffiths. London: 1888. 8° (bodl.)

Several parts of Buckinghamshire were visited.

Cobbett (William). Rural Rides in the Counties of Surrey, . . . Bucks, etc. A New Edition, with Notes, by J. P. Cobbett. London: 1853. 12° (bodl.)

The edition of 1830 (imperfectly described on p. 13) does not refer to Buckinghamshire. That of 1853—reprinted in 1885—includes a short notice of Chesham and its neighbourhood in 1822.

WORKHOUSES.

An Account, etc. The third edition. London: 1786.

The Buckinghamshire Miracle: or the World's Wonder.
Being a strange, but true Relation of one Mr.
Edward Barton, at Ludlow, in the County of Bucks; who was foretold by a Vision that he had but a short time to live. . . . To which is added, a Sermon at his Funeral by Dr. Bolton, Vicar of the said Parish. Printed and sold in Aldermary Church-yard,
London: [17 . .]. 8° (Bodl.)

There is no such parish. The story purports to be witnessed by Henry Bolton, Vicar; Sir Edward Smith, Bart.; John Jones, and T. Tray, Esqrs.; all which names appear to be fictitious. Pp. 8.

Abstract of Returns of Charitable Donations, etc.
Aylesbury: 1820. 4° (cat.)

This seems to be identical with a work ascribed to . . . Faulkner, a copy of which is in the possession of the Society.

Gibbs (Robert), F.S.A. Worthies of Buckinghamshire, and Men of Note of that County. Aylesbury : 1888. 4° (soc.)

The Elegy was first published by Dodaley, 16 Feb., 1751. The surreptitiously obtained copy in The Magazine of Magazines did not appear till afterwards, the custom then being to publish monthly serials at the month's end. See an article on "The Literary History of Gray's Elegy," by the Rev. J. Maskell, in Walford's Antiquarian Magazine, Vol. IV., p. 231, etc.
